Andrew Petriccione

In the past I have done enough html to make a little webpage for e-bay (about 10 years ago). Since I've come back to school, I've taken a short class on PHP, java in 181 & 182, and we discussed various things in 255. I'm a senior on paper (but a junior for all practical purposes) studying Computer Science. I am taking 344 to continue immersing myself in the subject matter, with a hope that I can become really good at it.